

Now Providing
Certified Flight Attendants!

When you charter a large cabin business jet the person providing service in the cabin may be vital to your survival in the event of an emergency. At International Jet we take this roll very seriously and have taken the necessary steps to create a training program and have it certified by the FAA.

What this means for you is that the person providing excellent customer service has been trained in the same process as Flight Attendants on a major airlines. This training includes:

Emergency medical procedures for major and minor issues.

Emergency procedures for land and water evacuations.

Fire fighting procedures including the use of smoke hoods and PBE (personal Breathing Equipment)

Aircraft systems malfunctions and abnormal operational procedures.

Crew Coordination in all aspects of operation, Preflight, Normal, Abnormal, and Emergency.

As a certified "Crew Member" our Flight Attendants are legally allowed to ride in the cockpit jump seats. This seat is not available to passengers or "Cabin Hosts" This ability adds the additional passenger capacity to the cabin that other operators who do not have this certification cannot legally achieve.

IJA Flight Attendants are also trained and have years of experience in providing 5 star customer service to our clients insuring a world class travel experience.

When booking your next large cabin charters ask if the operator has an FAA approved Flight Attendant training program and if they are crew members or just passengers, your life may depend on it.
